

Control Panels

Control Panels provide human-machine interfaces.

GE provides many varieties of flight control, load control and maintenance panels for airplanes, helicopters and ground vehicles

C-130

SH-60

Available panel technologies include night vision compatibility, edge lighting, simplified switch and indicator-only panels as well as sophisticated digital controls with processing and communication busses.

